ON THE FIRST VOTE | James H. Ward. Wyoming-W.

The Hon. E. M. Barnard Named for Senator

FROM THE 17TH DISTRICT

A Quiet and Harmonious Concention Does Its Work With Despatch-The Delegates Present.

Yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock the republican senatorial convention of the Seventeenth district, composed of delegates from the Tenth and Eleventh wards of the city and the townships of Kent county outside of the city, met at Houseman's hall, corner of Hall street and Madison avenue, to nominate a candidate for state senate for the Seventeenth district. An organization was effected with John T. Headley of Ada, chairman, and James M. Wilcox of the Tenth ward, secretary.

On motion of Alderman Dregge, the chair appointed a committee on credentials as follows: John Dregge, W. J. Thomas and Horace W. Davis. A recess was taken to allow the committhe time to prepare its report. When the chairman rapped for order, Mr. Dregre announced that the two wards and all the townships save Grattan were represented. On motion, it was decided that Max Gais and M. Ranney of Gratian, who were in the room, should represent that township. Horace Davis, George Ranney and J. H. Ward were appointed tellers, and nominations for state senator were in order.

In a moment E. C. Watkins of Rockford was on his feet and nominated the Hon. Neil McMillan of Rockford for the office. Mr. Watkins and that the the office. Mr. Watkins said that the great republican party, with its grand achievements of the past and its grand hope for the future, was entitled to the best material available for the office and northern Kent had a man just suited to the place. He would, with the greatest of confidence, present the name of Neil McMillan.

Barnard's Name Presented.

Then Capt. Patrick Kelly arose and said that he would nominate a candimaking a good senator, a man possessed of all the good qualities requisite for the office. He would admit all the good qualities of the other candidate and of still others, but he would nominate for state senator from the sixteenth district the Hon. E. M. Barnard, a man sure to be elected.

Great applause f-llowed the nomina-tion and when W. J. Thomas rose to second the nomination of Mr. McMil-lan be grew eloquent and made an ef-fective speech, but sat down without naming the candidate. After a moment's pause he was asked whose candidacy he wished to second and as he rose sgain he was greeted with laughter and applause. He named Mr. McMillan, but added that the candidate did not need to be named as his good qualities were so well known.

James L. Lewis for the Eleventh ward seconded the nomination of Mr. Barnard and Lowell and other townships fell into line.

Decided on One Hallot-

An informal ballot was taken with the following result. Total number of votes cast, 77; E. M. Barnard, 54; Neil McMillao, 23. The announcement was greeted with appliance and on motion the ballot was declared formal and Mr.

Barnard was named as the motion the ballot was declared formal and Mr. Barnard was named as the unanimous choice of the convention.

The friends of Mr. McMillan took his defeat very gracefully. L. M. Sellers, E. C. Watkins and others rose and pledged their support to the candidate and the principles of the republican

Mr. Sellers moved that the district committee be limited to five members which was carried and the chair appointed William J. Thomas, of Cannon: Benjamin Gilden, of the Tenth ward; Patrick Kelley, of Grand Rapids township; and James K. Morris of Court-land. The fifth member of the com-mittee will be selected by Mr. Barnard. The convention then adjourned. The following delegates were in attend-

ADMIRERS OF M'KINLEY. The School Boys of the City Organize a McKinley Club.

Admiration for the McKinley bill is not confined to active politicians and all sound-minded adults, but it is ad- It Starts Off With a Biff and Bing-Mr. mired by the boys who are just expand-ing into manhood. Last night a party of fifty high school boys and young men from business colleges met in the Watson and Heald block on Division street and organized what will here-after be known as the "Young Men's lowing officers: Captain, Joseph Heald; first lieutenant, Will Meade; second lieutenant, Ed Sisson. The next meet-ing of the club will be in Lincoln rooms on Pearl street next Thursday evening. A large per cent of the members are high school boys, but any young man between the ages of 16 and 21 years is elligible to membership.

McVeigh Delivers a Telling

"The republican party is not an an-McKinley Club."

H. C. Heald was chosen president,
Eugene Painer was chosen secretary,
W. L. Keate was chosen treasurer and Walter Scresenreuter sergeant at arms.
Besides the political club proper, there will be a marching club with the folglo-maniae and doesn't turn up its able speaker and one who is perfectly posted on matters of politics. The meeting was a rouser from a to z. Business was transacted rapidly and not a hitch marred the serenity of the occasion. The attendance was comparatively large, and showed conclusively where the advancing young men of the day stand.

The meeting was called to order by Chairman Sellers of the county com-mittee, who called Charles W. McGill to be temporary chairman. Mr. McGill accepted the honor in a neatly worded speech and called upon the Hon. Thomas McVeigh of Detroit for a speech. Mr. McVeigh spoke off-hand, in an allowant means the speech. in an eloquent manner. He was glad to see the young men. In organization is strength. Take organization and enthus sam from a democrat and what do you have? Simply a walking skel-elton, whose only ambition it is to walk around and vote out. Give this skel-eton a soul and a conscience and it becomes a republican.

L. M. Turner and W. F. McKnight terests and advanced since the introduction of the McKinley bill.

He also talked of the policy of reciprocity, which he believed was a subject which had not received as much discussion as it merited. In 1890 we consumed two-thirds of Brazil's coffee and bought $200,000,000 of goods from them, while they bought only $91,000,-000 of goods from us.

The republican statesmen saw that The republican statesmen saw that this was not right, and conceived the reciprocity theory. The South American republics, which had taken $200,000,000 of goods from us, put an almost prohibitory tariff on many of our stuples. We offered an exchange of goods on an equal footing and magnificent results followed. The United States can not produce molasses, sugar, coffees and hides, which are the only things now on the free list.

In closing he said he loved the party because it honored its heroes.

Temporarity Organized. After the applause had subsided Mr.
McGill stated the real object of the meeting. Mr. Chase proposed the election of a temporary secretary.
The name of George Bunnell was proposed, but he declined. The name of R. J. Cleiand was proposed and he was unanimously elected.

The Japanese, as well as most civilned nations, know that the bodies of cholera-affected persons should be burned, accordingly every one of the 408,080 people who have died of cholera in Japan in the last thirteen years have hern cremated. The process is of course modern and scientific. But the Buddhists burn as a religious rite, and do it this way: The o spee is brought in a square wooden box or barrel (the regular Japanese coffin.) in a sitting position, according to the national oustom. A hole in the ground, with sloping sides awaits it, at the bottom of which are two stones, upright and parallel; across the top of these stones drewood and charconi are piled.

around the corpse, placed upon the pile, a circular wall is built up, formed of rice straw and chaff, perhaps to the the height of five or six feet sad the wall itself is wrapped in wet me ting, which during the whole operation, is continually moistened. The fire is kept up during twelve hours, after which the ashes and bones are picked up with chop sticks by the oldest representative of the family, inclosed in a funeral urn, and buried after seven days of various religious observances. Composition of Quicksand. The reason a person sinks in quicksand is because the latter is composed chiefly of small particles of mica mixed largely with water. The mira is so smooth that the fragments slip upon each other with the greatest facility, so that any heavy body which displaces them will sink and continue to sink until a solid bottom is reached. When particles of sand are ragged and angular any weight pressing on them will crowd them together until they are compacted into a solid mass. A sand composed of mica or soapstone, when mixed with sufficient water, seems incapable of such consolidation.
